[Faint handwritten text, mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side.]

[Faint, illegible handwriting throughout the page]

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written on a piece of paper with a vertical crease down the center. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher. The text is organized into several paragraphs, with some lines indented. A vertical line, possibly a fold or a mark, is visible in the center of the page.

Street Boston

Dear Mrs Chapman

It seems almost I was going to say, impossible that not one of my many kind friends have not written to me some word about the group For ever free - Will you be so kind as to let me know what has become of it? and has Mr Sewall got the money for it yet or not. I am in great need of the money. What little money I had I put all in that work with my heart. and I truly hope that the work of two long years has not been lost. Dear Mrs Chapman I am dreading that it may be that you have dealt with some who think that it will ruin me to help me - but you may tell them that in giving a little something towards that group - that will not only aid me but will show their good feeling for one who has given all for poor humanity. I have written to Mr Sewall some time ago but as yet I have not heard from him - Will you dear Mrs Chapman be so kind as to see Mr Sewall and if he has been paid the Eight hundred dollars ($800.) will he be so kind as to send to me the same as I am in need of it very much - I have none very little this winter and unless I receive this money from home - I will not be able to get on this year - I beg you will excuse the liberty I have taken in sending this letter but my belief that you will receive it without offence - Should you honor me by a reply to this application, a letter would reach me, addressed to care of Mr Treborn & Co

Mrs. Chapman

Boston

Dear Mrs. Chapman:

It seems almost impossible to say, impossible that not one of my many kind friends have not written to me some word about the gown for ever free -- Will you be so kind as to let me know what has become of it? and has Mr. Sewall got the money for it yet or not. I am in great need of the money that little money I had I put all in that work with my heart and I truly hope that the work of two long years has not been lost. Just Mrs. Chapman I have thinking that it may be that you have met with some who think that it will ruin me to help me - but you may tell them that in giving a little something towards that cause - that will not only aid me but will show their good feeling for one who has given all for poor humanity. I have written to Mr. Sewall some time ago but as yet I have not heard from him - Will you bear this but my belief that you will receive it without offence.
